Chaplains Feel Chill From Draft

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP) - A second chaplain at Cornell University has been reclassified as eligible for the draft into the armed forces after protesting the war in Vietnam.

The action came Monday five weeks after the Rev. Paul E. Gibbons, 34-year-old father of put Britain in a second-class, three, returned his draft card to the Selective Service Board in Ithaca along with an anti-war

The Rev. Mr. Gibbons has served as chaplain for various Protestant denominations.

He was reclassified as 1-A delinguent, which means that he must be available for possible induction into the service at any time. The "delinquent" designation refers to failure to carry a registration certificate as required by law.

A little more than a week ago, the Rev. David Connor, a Roman Catholic chaplain, received his delinquent classification. Both had been classified 4-D.

They handed in their draft cards Oct. 16 after a protest march against American involvement in South Vietnam.

Wilson was replying to suggestions from some Laborites and Conservatives that Britain's application be withdrawn because of its apparent rejection by the French president.

Associate membership, though humiliating because it would non-voting role, would open the Common Market's tariff wall to British products.

Wilson has said he does not want any half-measures. But continental experts believe associated membership would be good thing for Britain and probably the only kind of relationship with the Common Market the British can get as long as De Gaulle is president.

The French president made clear Monday at his semiannual news conference that devaluation of the British pound has had no effect on his determination to keep Britain out of the six-nation trade community.

'The present Common Market is incompatible with the British economy the way it is,'

Many of the symptoms match last year's and they began developing before the Federal Reserve Board raised the discount rate from 4 to 41/2 per cent in reacting to devaluation of the British pound.

This is the rate charged by the Federal Reserve for money borrowed by commercial banks. Other interest rates are pegged upward from it.

PARIS '(AP) — President Charles de Gaulle's renewed attacks on the United States, Britain, Canada and Israel provoked widespread angry criticism today and added new strains to France's relations with nations which have been her friends and allies in the

Even in France, De Gaulle was sharply faulted by wide sections of French opinion for some of the views he voiced at his Monday news conference.

There was only a passing attempt among De Gaulle's French critics to come to the support of Britain after De Gaulle again slammed the door to British entry into the Common Market. But even the frequently Gaullist LeFigare disputed the French president's stand labeling Israel the aggressor in the Middle East.

The same newspaper, referring to De Gaulle's call for separation of French Quebec from Canada, demanded to know 'why, all of a sudden, this long pleading in favor of his Quebec

The anti-Gaullist, conservative newspaper Aurore also criticized the president's Middle East policies. It warned also that De Gaulle's support of French Canadian separatism would "end only in external complications."

The Socialist Le Populaire and the Communist L'Humanite were among the many critical

The Communist paper's criticism rested largely on De Gaulle's domestic policy, which it called "antisocial.

In Jerusalem, Israeli government circles were reported to be bitter over what some described as "anti-Jewish" statements by De Gaulle that Israel was responsible for the June Arab-Israeli war.

Canada was studying the De Gaulle statements supporting 'free Quebec' in the light of the government's declared responsibility "not to allow any intrusion into Canadian affairs," Foreign Secretary Paul Martin said.

McNamara to Resign From L.B.J. Cabinet

Pick Defense Chief To Head World Bank

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara is resigning to become president of the World Bank but the White House — without confirming the shift — said today no change in the conduct of the Vietnam war will result.

Press secretary George Reject Christian persisted in telling newsmen he was not commenting on what he treated as only a report that McNamara is leaving the Cabinet after the first of the year. But there was no denial either.

When he was asked whether McNamara's departure from the Pentagon would mean any change in the conduct of the war he replied:

'No, I don't know of any change in the conduct of the war for any reason.'

Christian also answered "no" to an inquiry whether there was any sharp difference of opinion between President Johnson and the defense secretary over bombing policy in Vietnam.

McNamara's formal selection as $40,000-a-year president of the international lending institution will come Wednesday when the bank's 20 directors meet at its Washington headquarters. He will succeed another American George D. Woods.

With President Johnson's approval, McNamara, 51, was secretly nominated for the bank presidency last week. The nomination was made by the United States, which traditionally plays the nominating role because it is the largest single financial contributor to the bank.

Woods' term expires at the end of this year but he has an interim appointment to serve an additional year unless a successor is named earlier. There was no word on just when Mc-Namara would take over and so it could be early next yearor not for months.

McNamara's impending departure immediately raised speculation that he would be replaced in the defense post by one of Johnson's closest political allies, Texas Gov. John B. Connally, a former secretary of the navy. But Connally, who recently announced he would not seek re-election as governor, said

Flood Toll Is Rising

LISBON, Portugal (AP) -Dozens of victims of the floods that killed mor sons in central Portugal over the weekend were buried today. More bodies were recovered, and security police charged that "agents of social subversion are seeking to sow panic among the populace.

The official total of deaths from hard rains and flash floods stood at 316, but it did not include dozens of other mud-encrusted corpses dug from the ruins of villages north of Lisbon.

Police investigated the possibility of an organized conspiracy against the 40-year-old dictatorship of premier Antonio Salazar following a rash of rumors that explosions were imminent in ammunition and gunpowder deposits at military installations near Lisbon. The rumors caused near-panic in the fashionable suburbs of the Costa do Sol west

"So who needs Blue Cross-Blue Shield?"

An understandable question from a robust fellow typical of most young people who have always enjoyed good health—and hope they always will.

At Blue Cross-Blue Shield we share that hope. But at the same time we know that hoping is not enough . . . for accidents and illness do not respect age! Proof? Locally 1 out of every 5 Blue Cross members admitted to a hospital last year was between 19 and 34 years of age.

Even more important than the chance of an accident or illness is the fact that most young families are not prepared for the financial burden of hospital and doctor bills. After grocery bills, house and car payments, there's not much left over for emergencies. That's why we say to young people-"Yes, you do need Blue Cross-Blue Shield."

Blue Cross-Blue Shield is the choice of almost one out of every three persons. Over 66 Million now have Blue Cross protection for hospital bills. Over 60 Million have Blue Shield for doctor bills.

Reds Sought Propaganda Victory at Dak To

By JOHN T. WHEELER Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — The largest and bloodiest sustained battle of the war around the highlands town of Dak To apparently was set off by the Communists more with an eye toward U.S. public opinion than for any long-range tactical advantage, a senior U.S. Command officer says.

The three-week battle cost 287 American lives and left 1,641 North Vietnamese dead on the battleground by U.S. count.

In surveying it the U.S. Command can find strong reasons for both optimism and pessi-

The senior U.S. officer, discussing this and other recent battles, said the pattern tended to reinforce a theory long held by the U.S. Command

The Communists long ago decided they could not grab and 10ld strategic real estate in the ace of American firepower and nobility. Their main objective then became to kill as many Americans as possible in steadiy bigger battles. They hope to stir further antiwar sentiment n the United States and win hrough a collapse of will on the American home front, U.S. officials believe.

In recent months the Communists, picking the time and place or the big battles, have emphasized border areas where their supply lines are shortest and escape to sanctuaries in Cambodia and Laos is easy

The big battles pull American pattalions away from pacificaion areas to meet such major hreats. Months of pacification work can be rolled back overnight if the Viet Cong are able to strike at points weakened by such troop drains.

There is also speculation at top U.S. Command levels that the Communists are experimenting with new infantry tactics built around such heavy weapons as large rockets and

Theory On Two Bodies

BUFFALO, Mo. (AP) - The two bodies found in a soybean field south of Buffalo may be those of two Montreal college students who were hitchhiking home from a summer vacation in Mexico, officers believe.

Montreal officials said they learned that Bertram Kidd, 20, and Marjorie Sharp, 21, students at McGill University, were last seen Sept. 16 when they left a bus north of Mexico City.

The Missouri Highway Patrol said clothing near the woman's decomposed body bore a Canadian manufacturer's label.

The patrol talked with W, S. Cheek of West Memphis, Ark. whose business card was found in the victims' clothing.

Cheek recalled that about three months ago he brought two young hitchhikers from near the Mexican border to the Texas-Oklahoma state line.

Cheek's description of the pair generally fits that of the victims, the patrol said. He also recalled that the girl said her father was a banker in Mon-

Defrauding Of a Bank Is Charge

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) -Edgar C. Riley, 60, former mayor of Cawker City, Kan., will have a preliminary hearing Dec. 7 on a charge of defrauding the Twin City State Bank in Kansas City, Kan., of $49,500.

Riley was arraigned Monday in Wyandotte County Magistrate Court and released under $7,500 bond. He is accused of pledging allegedly fraudulent chattel mortgages as collateral in getting a loan from the bank.

He owns a farm implement business and an automobile

Frank D. Menghini, Wyandotte County attorney, said the charge was filed at the request of the Kansas Bureau of Investigation.

Riley is free under $20,000 bond on a similar charge in Mitchell County District Court. Harry W. Gantenbein, Mitchell County attorney, said that case involves about $40,000 and other institutions. The case is set for trial in January

T. M. Higgins Jr., president of Twin City, said the bank is not going to lose anything. He said he had not made a complaint and didn't know there was a charge against Riley in Wyandotte County.

Higgins said Riley borrowed $60,000, has reduced the debt to $16,000 "and we still have some good collateral in our posses-

Nixon To Face Primaries

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Richard M. Nixon says he'd like to avoid primaries if he decides to seek the Republican presidential nomination but acknowledges he couldn't and be assured of overcoming a "Nixon is a loser" tag.

The former GOP vice president said Monday that while he'd prefer to skip presidential primaries and save himself for the November race, "the primaries provide the only areas where you can test your strength with the voters.

'And I welcome that test,' said the man who lost the presidency to John F. Kennedy in 1960 by only an eyelash, then suffered a second setback two years later when he ran for governor of California

Nixon, expected to announce his candidacy in January, also said the GOP should make clear it supports President Johnson's Vietnam policies—a position diametrically opposite that of Johnson's fellow Democrat, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minne-

McCarthy, an outspoken Vietnam policy critic, is expected to announce Thursday he'll oppose Johnson for the Democratic nod. The early announcement is viewed as an effort by Mc-Carthy to bring under a single banner-his-the now-splintered opposition to the President's war policies.

Meanwhile the Louis Harris poll reported finding that Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., whose views on Vietnam appear closer to McCarthy's than Johnson's, now leads Johnson by a 52-32 per cent margin among voters asked who they'd prefer to see as the 1968 Democratic

The poll, copyrighted by the Washington Post, found more than half those it interviewed felt Kennedy had many of the same "outstanding qualities" as his brother, the late President Kennedy.

In other developments: -Washington sources foresaw political implications in the impending resignation of Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara to head the World Bank. They said some were sure to read into the resignation evidence that Johnson planned an all-out air attack on North Vietnamwhich McNamara has opposed designed to end the war before next year's elections.

-Charles F. Frankel resigned as assistant secretary of state amid reports his action was in protest of Johnson's Vietnam policies. Frankel declined to detail his reasons, saying: "It would not serve a good purpose to discuss them.

-Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., said he'd support Johnson for renomination only if the war were being de-escalated by the time of next year's Democratic national convention.

Kenneth L. Dean, director of the Mississippi Council on Human Relations, Monday called on Gov.-elect John Bell Williams to give his position on the Ku Klux Klan, the citizens councils and a group known as Americans for the Preservation of the White Race (APWR).

Dean said he was not accusing any of the groups of participating in violence.

It was the latest exchange about the spate of bombings in Mississippi since September. There have been two in Jackson and one in Laurel since Nov. 15.

Williams did not respond directly to Dean's statement, but referred to a statement he issued last week after the bombing of the home of Rabbi Perry E. Nussbaum in Jackson.

"I have nothing but contempt for anyone who would engage directly or indirectly in the senseless and despicable type of atrocities recently experienced," the statement said. "I have the same contempt for anyone who would willingly encourage or condone such violent

Big Task On Farms Is Seen

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) -Gov. Warren E. Hearnes said today agriculture-called an industry where increased efficiency only results in reduced profits-has the job of expanding production to meet the demands of a growing world population.

He proposed before Missouri's first governor's conference on agriculture that a special advisory council tackle the job of helping pull together the recommendations of all those vitally interested in agriculture. He named Agriculture Commissioner Dexter D. Davis of St. Joseph to head the new council. Hearnes announced the new council in a speech prepared for a closing session of the twoday conference where the problems of agriculture were aired and a beginning was made in seeking some solutions.

The council's job, he said, "will be to appraise our agricultural potential for further development in terms of increased food production and economic growth. . . and to suggest ways for attaining these

The council will look into the problems of these areas:

Production and marketing, management and credit, conservation of land and water, governmental environment, education needs and the process of letting the public know the burdens of agriculture and how they must be lightened.

The extra effort is needed for agriculture, Missouri's largest industry, Hearnes said.

"It employs one out of every three Missouri workers and generates over $4 billion each year in the state's economy," he said. "And it has potential for further growth and development and for making an even greater contribution to our state's business life and economy. Monday night the chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, Congressman W.R. Poage, D-Tex., said farmers cannot economically use their know-how to produce more farm commodities at current prices. 'We know how to double the production of food and fiber almost overnight," he said in a banquet speech, "but we can't afford to do so.' The cost of machinery, insecticides and fertilizers make maximum production unecononical at the prices farmers now get for their products, he said. More than 500 producers, representatives of farm organiza tions, agribusinesses and government agencies attended the two-day meeting.

Keeler Continues Vandalism Probe

Prosecuting Attorney Henry Keeler said Tuesday that his investigation into the rash of vandalism and burglaries in Pettis County in recent weeks is continuing.

Keeler further stated that he expected "More charges to be against William T. Clancy, 226 South Grand, John C. Heureman, Route 1, and James R. Fisher, 517 East 26th, who were arrested last Saturday and charged with second degree burglary and stealing in connection with the burglary of the Elroy Burton farm on Nov.

A warrant was issued last Saturday for the arrest of Larry Esser, address unavailable, also charging him in the burglary. but as of Tuesday morning he still had not been picked up according to Sheriff Emmett Fairfax

Keeler also said that there is a possibility there will be more arrests but he would not release the names at the present time.

Speaker On Travel, Adventure

Larry Linnard, civil engineer, landscape architect and photographer of larger types of wild animals since World War II, will show and personally narrate his film, "North American Wildlife In Action" at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening, Nov. 29, Smith-Cotton High School auditorium, in the second of a series of Travel and Adventure programs sponsored by the Sedalia Rotary Club.

Linnard is a past-president of the American Society of Landscape Architects and has designed several awardwinning park and building developments. His natural love of nature, combined with training in the pursuit of creative design has resulted in an unusual appreciation of scenic areas and grandeur.

He resolved to photograph the wild-life heritage of Americans, Alaskans, Africans and others, while it still exists or before it becomes extinct. In his films he has created a priceless record treasure for Americans to enjoy of a fast vanishing world of nature. Admission to the Wednesday showing is by season ticket, or single admission tickets may be purchased at the door.

THE NEWS in Brief

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS WASHINGTON (AP) - The nation's capital would have a tourist center catering to its millions of annual visitors if a House-passed bill wins final approval.

Sent to the Senate on a 316-34

vote Monday was a measure aimed at converting Union Station, a sprawling, cavernous structure just four blocks northeast of the Capitol, into a national tourist center. The bill calls for the government to lease the building for 20 years after its owner, the Washington Terminal Co., spends up to $16 million to renovate the structure and build a 4,000-car parking lot nearby. The proposed center also would include heliport.

WASHINGTON (AP) - Congress has before it a formal copy of the multination trade agreement hailed by President Johnson as a monument to his successor, the late President John F. Kennedy

Johnson has assailed pending measures in Congress that would set new import quotas on dozens of products and commodities. The President has said passage of the protectionist measures would make meaningless the trade agreement produced by the so-called Kennedy Round of trade talks in Geneva. Kennedy's initiative led to the start of the negotiations. They culminated June 30 in the multilateral agreement, scheduled to take effect Jan. 1. The United States, while agreeing to lower its own import restrictions, gained tariff concessions of up to $8 billion on American exports.

The Seventh District American Legion. Department of Missouri, met with the Cole Camp, Abraham Lincoln Post 305 November 26, at 2 p.m. The Women's Auxiliary met in the pasement of the post hall simultaneously to conduct ousiness.

Several delegates and auxiliary from Sedalia were present. Among them were: Mr. and Mrs. Allan Hawkins, Post Commander, Mr. and Mrs. Jack A. Green, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Twenter, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Lon Morris, J. M. Fulks, Mrs. Elizabeth McElroy, Charles King, L. L. Roe, Sam Waterfield, Ed Mein, Arthur Atkinson, Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Lucas, Mrs. Nora Gardner, Mrs. Maude Cain, and Mrs. Clarence Boeschen.

Several awards were given out, including one to Post 16 for work in Child Welfare. Sedalia was chosen as the next district meeting which will be held on Jan. 21, 1968, and will include the finals on the oratory contest.

The local Legion was cited for service to children. In recognition of its outstanding service to children and youth of Sedalia, Pettis County Post 16, of the American Legion has been cited by the national organization of the Legion, Post Commander Allan Hawkins announced today.

Signed by National Commander John E. Davis and Missouri Department Child Welfare Chairman, Robert H. Theiss, Route 4, Warrensburg. The citation from American Legion National Headquarters in Indianapolis, Ind., was presented to Post 16 by Seventh District Commander, Frank Markovich, Slater.

Post Commander Hawkins gave much of the credit for this national award to Leo Twenter, 1214 South Kentucky, who is Child Welfare chairman of Post 16. Also to the following members, Joe Toler for contribution from wrestling fund for the Crippled Children Center, George Henderson, baseball and soccer, youth activities, and Auxiliary Police Chief, Fred N. Rose, for manhours for duty at football games

"Child welfare is one of the American Legions' basic programs," Commander Hawkins explained and we are proud that our efforts have been honored with this citation from the national organization.

District Commander Frank Markovich of the Slater Post 78 elaborated on the solicitation of membership in the Seventh District and also made available information that the Seventh was on top in the membership drive in the State. Commander Markovich also spoke on improving the image of the American Legion and the necessity of getting new blood in the Legion by solicitation of memberships from Vietnam veterans. Dec. 31, is the deadline on membership sales.

On the calendar for 1968 will be a past and present commanders dinner at the Slater Legion post hall Saturday, Feb. 17, at 7 p.m. The post adjutants will also attend this dinner.

Erman Taylor of the Blackburn post made a plea that the Seventh District should have candidates for State Commandery offices and spoke on behalf of the candidacy of Commander Markovich for State Commander.

State Commander Dr. Harry E. Goddard of the Kennett, post was present and spoke to a joint meeting of the Legion and Auxiliary. An announcement was made at the joint meeting that the Women's Auxiliary of the Seventh District was also leading the state in the membership drive. Mrs. Velma Proctor of Malta Bend is the Seventh District Auxiliary president.

Ralph A. Ahrens of the Slater Post is Seventh District Adjutant.

Immediately after the joint meeting the women of the Cole Camp post served turkey and ham with all the trimmings.

Troop Level Is Reduced

WASHINGTON (AP) - Oklahoma will get four new Army reserve units but troop strength for the state will be reduced under a reorganization plan announced Monday by Rep. James V. Smith, R-Okla.

Smith said total Army reserve strength for Oklahoma will be reduced to 4,759 men from the present 5,243 under the reorganization to be completed by May 31, 1968

The 484 surplus reservists will be carried as over-strength personnel up to two years so they may complete their reserve obligation, the congressman said.

He said the four new Oklahoma reserve units will be numbered 106 through 109 but there was no announcement where they will be located.

In his talk Entsminger told the group "the University in spite of size, still encourages individuality of student and provides for the individual.

He also brought out the University of Missouri nuclear reactor is one of only four of its capacity in the United States. "Including both the Columbia and Rolla campuses, the University of Missouri graduates more engineers than any other university in the country," he said.

Entsminger pointed out the taxpayers of Missouri provide less than 50 per cent of the total annual operation budget. The annual budget is $55 million.

As executive secretary of the University Alumni Association, he reported there has been a steady expansion of the organization in Missouri and throughout the country. The Association now has 101 organized county chapters in Missouri alone, and 30 alumni clubs in 19 states, and boasts of a membership exceeding 15,000.

It seems impossible that 35,000 men should whip 600,000. But that is what happened at Issus when Alexander snatched from Darius the most complete victory in history.

It wasn't a fight. Five minutes after the first blow was struck. Darius was out of his chariot and racing into the hills. His troops were broken and in flight. Only the Persian nobles, who fought for their homes, and one other contingent stood fast and met iron with iron.

Thar's Gold in Them Chips

There's a tantalizing project now under way at Ohio State University.

The goal: To produce nothing less than potato chips of a uniform golden color.

The project is being sponsored by the Ohio Agricultural Research and Growers Association, Potato Chip Subcommittee.

Development Center and the Ohio Potato

"Potato chip color is influenced by several factors, such as amino acids and reducing sugars," explains project chief Dr. Wilbur A. Gould. "We are trying to make a golden color chip rather than a brown chip."

To turn base spuds into gold, the researchers are studying various frying oils, frying times and frying temperatures. They have made as many as . . . crunch . . . 180 research batches of potato chips . . . chomp . . . in a single week . . . smack!

"We think that as long as the potato in storage is kept at 55 degrees F. or warmer and if sprouting is prevented, we can make a good chip out of any potato," says Gould optimistically.

This is encouraging news — not because we have been especially dissatisfied with the hues of any potato chips we have seen, but because it's just nice to know that not all the world's scientific brains are working on projects of cosmic significance like the city of tomorrow, the inner structure of the atom or the nature of the Venusian atmosphere.

Meat Lobbyists Earn Their Pay

By DREW PEARSON AND JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON-Lobbyists for the meat industry used adroit tactics in trying to weaken the meat bill introduced by Sen. Walter Mondale, D-Minn., which would give the housewife complete protection against diseased or deteriorating meat.

One lobbyist, Alex Davies of the American Meat Institute, hovered near the office of Sen. Joseph Montoya, D-N.Mex., when Montoya and Mondale were trying to ship the final meat bill into shape. Minnesota's Mondale has been the greatest crusader for the housewife. New Mexico's Montoya has been privately dickering for the meat lobby

Another energetic lobbyist has been Blaine Lilienquist of the Western States meat packers, the man who made Texas Rep. Bob Poage's hair stand on end by asking meat packers to contribute toward the re-election of congressmen voting with the meat packers.

GOP to the Rescue

After the meat lobbvists failed to get all they wanted out of the Montoya-Mondale conference, they decided to appeal to Republicans on the Senate Agriculture Committee. It was Jack Miller of Iowa, an able Republican with some meat-packing constituents in Sioux City and Burlington, who maneuvered inside an executive session of the Senate Agriculture Committee to postpone the Senate vote on the meat inspection bill.

Reason for the delay was to knock out these two safeguards in the Mondale-Montoya Bill:

Safeguard No. 1-Would permit any governor to turn meat inspection over to the U.S. Department of Agriculture if he was not satisfied with state inspection progress.

Safeguard No. 2-Would permit the federal government to move in on any plant found dangerous to health and take it over; also to have access to any intrastate plant in order to check on whether it is dangerous.

Meanwhile, Sen. Mondale has read into the record some amazing facts regarding substandard meat produced intrastate for supermarkets. Specifically he named Safeway, Piggley Wiggley, A & P, Kroger, and First National as selling substandard hot dogs, bologna, sausage, hamburgers and various pork products. The Minnesota senator gave the Senate an analysis of 162 meat products produced intrastate of which 121 failed to meet U.S. standards.

Some of this meat has been produced specifically for the black ghettos in the big cities of New York, Chicago, Newark and Detroit.

Note 1-Messrs. Davies and Liljenquist now plan to work inside the joint House-Senate conference committee to modify the bill. There is too much visibility on the Senate floor for lobbyists to be effective.

Junk Mail

The vote was taken in secret, so the public wouldn't know how they voted, but every Republican on the Senate Post Office Committee recently voted in favor of so-called "junk mail."

They voted not to increase third-class or bulk mail rates any higher than the $154-million-a-year increase voted by the House.

Sen. Jennings Randolph, D-W. Va., chairman of the Senate subcommittee handling mail rates, had drafted an increase of $28 million. This was in response to widespread newspaper editorials against loading down letter carriers with junk mail and in favor of making it pay its proportionate share for mail delivery.

The mail-order houses and other users of junk mail have been pulling wires on Capitol Hill and finally persuaded the House to limit the increase to a modest $154 million a year. Sen. Randolph fought for a further increase.

But, last week, Republicans almost beat him back. On three separate resolutions the vote was 6 to 6 in favor of cutting down the increase. Since it was a tie vote, the motion failed, and the additional increase rate of $23 million stayed in the bill.

The Republicans who voted with the mail lobby were Frank Carlson, Kans.; Hiram Fong, Hawaii; Paul Fannin, Ariz.; Caleb Boggs, Del. They were joined on most of their votes by Democrats, Vance Hartke, Ind., and Dan Brewster, Md.

The Democrats who stood with Randolph in favor of a higher rate on junk mail were Chairman Mike Monroney, Okla.; Ralph Yarborough, Tex.; Gale McGee, Wyo., Quentin Burdick, N.D., and Ernest

Hollings, S.C. Note—Randolph also put through a sweeping ban on nepotism. The House of Representatives had voted a weak, loophole-ridden ban on hiring relatives: Randolph moved to plug the loopholes

In the showdown on the House floor, Mrs. Bolton didn't vote at all on two "teller" (non-roll call) ballots to abolish the Job Corps. That is, she didn't vote to retain it. Later she voted to limit Job Corps

She also voted for the Green amendment to turn over most OEO job-creating functions to mayors and city political machines.

Then she voted to reduce the total OEO appropriation from $2.06 billion down to $1.6 billion. which Shriver says will substantially reduce Job Corps enrollees. Most of these changes were accomplished by back-door teller votes, in which House members do not have to go on record.

In the final public roll call, which was on the record, the lady from Cleveland, of course, voted yes when the House approved continuance of the OEO.

Democrat Pickups

A number of years ago a friend, who was on a trip, brought to a woman who is a strong Republican a little gray kid elephant about four inches high that has a pinkish cast beneath the gray.

The Republican woman was very pleased over the gift and stood it on the table in her living room. One day recently the woman discovered the elephant had been knocked over. When she looked at him she had to laugh. There he was balanced on his two front feet, the back ones up in the air.

Things look a little better for the Republicans these days, she thinks, and the little elephant kicking up its heels looks like a good omen for her party.

Parents Dodge, so Schools Should Inform About Sex

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: By your endorsement of public sex education, you are encouraging parents to shift their responsibility for this education to children's schools. Why didn't you recommend night classes for parents who've had their fun but reject the obligations that go with it? In America there's so much talk about sex that the whole meaning of love has lost its value. You can't really believe that schools can give better sex education than . . .

ANSWER: Nobody can give children sex education. Nobody can give it to them because it's their own experience which educates them in sex-their own experience of how the adult males and females around them treat each other.

So I didn't suggest that schools give it to them. I was talking about sex information-information on the mechanics of human reproduction.

I don't understand you. First, you speak of parents who've had the "fun" of sexual intercourse. Then you start talking about love. But love isn't fun. It's very hard work, married love along with other kinds. For after all, no matter how horizontal forever. And the moment we are vertical, love begins to make its demands for tenderness, for patience, for honesty and other attributes for which we Americans are not remarkable. If we were, our divorce statistics wouldn't be what they are.

In view of those statistics, we are not "shifting" our responsibility for children's sex education to schools. So few of us have ever taken it, we can't be said to have it to "shift." The truth is, lots of us duck out even on the job of providing sex information.

I'm not fussing. This is a hard place to love in. First, there's our romantic love business which defines affection for a member of the other sex as moonlight and deodorized embraces. Then there's our ruthless use of the lure of sexual sensation to sell products.

And finally, behind all this glorifying of sexual sensation, loom our stern Puritan Fathers. So there's really no wonder at all that so many of us adults are now obliged to behave like a bunch of moonstruck, sexually defiant adolescents.

So you tell me where the kids are to get education in sexual love. I myself wouldn't know. Which is why I've settled for a program of sex education in schools.

YOUR DENTAL HEALTH

Eating Habits Can Cause Teeth Discoloration

By WILLIAM LAWRENCE, D.D.S.

DEAR DR. LAWRENCE: My daughter's teeth keep turning black. It doesn't take long. A few weeks after they are cleaned by the dentist they get black all over again. Why is this? Can't it be pre-

A-Most staining is a direct result of poor mouth care, allowing residual food to collect on teeth, forming what is called materia alba or white matter. This thin, soft, white layer of debris is stained by action of microorganisms, food, drink, drugs and tobacco; and then calcified by action of saliva and blood to form tartar.

The final result? Discolored teeth, ranging in shade from yellow to brown to black. Main offenders are:

Food: Fruit and vegetable dyes; runny egg yolks, as in boiled eggs; licorice, gum balls.

Drink: Strong tea and coffee; grape juice. (Milk in tea precipitates tannic acid, thus sharply reducing stain-

Drugs: Iron compounds (tonics); antibiotics, specially lozenge type dissolved in the mouth. Tobacco: All kinds - pipes, cigars and cigarettes with or without filters or holders. As we get older our teeth stain even more readily because of tiny cracks in the enamel and exposed dentin, which absorb stains that resist even the most careful mouth hygiene.

Brushing after every meal and frequent, regular prophylaxis by your dentist will help prevent staining of teeth.

DEAR DR. LAWRENCE: I clean my plastic dentures after every meal and I soak them every night, yet food sticks to them. I've tried many things but at this point I am getting disgusted. Please advise me what to do.

A-Some people have a special knack for collecting food on their teeth, even natural teeth. It's probably due to peculiar eating habits, type of food they choose to eat, reduced flow and/or thickness of saliva, or poor muscle control of cheeks, lips and tongue.

Denture wearers can overcome this by first making sure their teeth fit well, all surfaces are highly polished, and crevices between individual teeth are shallow.

Then practice eating. Don't limit your diet to soft foods as many denture wearers so often do. Eat slowly and sip liquids during meals, i.e. wine, water, coffee.

If you were called upon to decide on how many crimes were committed in today's simple little hand and just which criminal should be given the severest penalty for his transgressions, what would you determine?

We are going to tell you in advance that South and West were good players and North and East bad ones. South played three no-trump after getting there by bidding as shown in the box. East won the diamond opening with his queen and returned the six. West thought awhile and played low, whereupon South proceeded to make five notrump. Five spades would have made easily, but East and West should have taken five diamond tricks against three no-trump.

Now for the answers to the criminality involved in the hand. South was guilty of the crime of hogging the play. He really had no excuse for bidding one and three notrump. He was not guilty of stealing the contract, since East and West handed it to him on a silver platter.

East was guilty of a real crime at trick two. His correct return was the king of diamonds. The lead of the three spot would have merely been a misdemeanor. The play of the six spot was a felony that was punished by loss of game and rubber.

As for West's failure to win the second diamond, we are going to let him off with a suspended sentence to be served the next time he has a blind spot. West should not have been fooled by his partner's ridiculous lead at trick two. He could have reasoned that good player South would have won the first diamond trick with an original holding of king-ten-eight, and that therefore bad player East was just living up to his reputation when he returned that six spot.

See Dramatic Johnson Moves

By JAMES MARLOW AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) - Is the departure of Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara from his post the first in a series of dramatic events involving the war in Vietnam?

While the White House would neither confirm nor deny Monday night that McNamara was on his way out-although other sources did confirm it-it should always be remembered President Johnson not only has a strong political sense but also a vivid dramatic one, too.

It should be no surprise if 1968 turns out to be a very dramatic year.

Johnson and the North Vietnamese, out of the same set of circumstances, have exactly the same reason for wishing for exactly opposite results in the war next year.

The reason is the criticism piling up around Johnson for his conduct of the war from all directions, including many within his own Democratic party. Because the criticism can have a tremendous effect, it is not far-fetched to expect startling events in the months ahead.

Johnson sees his popularity and public confidence in him at a low level. Already some forces are at work within the Democratic party to keep him from being renominated in 1968.

No one knows better than Johnson that his chances for renomination and re-election to the presidency are in jeopardy if the war drags on through all of next year and the criticism continues

(Only Monday it was learned that Charles F. Frankel, assistant secretary of state for educational and cultural affairs, resigned, according to the Columbia Broadcasting System, in protest against Johnson's Vietnam policies.)

The fact that he is President is reason enough for Johnson to get the war over with as fast as possible. His political future gives him an added reason for wanting to. Nothing could possibly help Johnson as much politically as a smashing defeat of the North Vietnamese before next August's Democratic nominating convention or, at the least, some weeks before the November election. On the other side of the coin are the North

Even if they felt themselves slipping badly in 1968 it is not hard to imagine they would try to drag the war on through the whole year in the hope Johnson would be eliminated from politics and his successor would be anxious to make concessions outright defeat for them could not obtain. Johnson and his two closest advisers on the war-McNamara and Secretary of State Dean

Rusk-have all been on the receiving end of the criticism dumped on the administration for the The President has been firm in his refusal to bow to the critics and take a softer stand in Vietnam. Both McNamara and Rusk are reportedly tired from their duties which began when President John F.

Kennedy appointed them in 1961. But if the two men should step aside within a relatively short time of each other it is almost certain to be interpreted as an effort by Johnson to pacify his critics a bit while still continuing the war

If these two men go, it is not unlikely some other highly placed ones will follow. If that happens then by convention time the war, except for Johnson, will be in the hands of a new team.

At first glance that might seem a political benefit to Johnson. Actually, it might have the opposite effect on the public mind. The solution to the war. which is the root of the anti-Johnson criticism, is not here. It's in Vietnam.

Confusion In Subway Changeover

NEW YORK (AP) - The Great Day of Adventure for New York's straphangers started with a subway train getting 'lost" and disgorging its 800 passengers far, far away from where they had hoped they were headed.

The day ended with a widespread power failure that caused havoc-including 4,000 riders on four trains trapped for an hour in a tunnel under the East River.

In between these snafus Monday was a day of what one city official called "compounded confusion.

But the Transit Authority can't change 8 of the 36 subway routes and expect the customers to catch on right away, even though authority member John Gilhooley pronounced New Yorkers "remarkably adapta-

Gilhooley and the other authority member, Daniel T. Scannell, checked operations at the morning and evening rush hours and pronounced the changeover "about 90 per cent effective." They estimated that the major effects of the changes were felt by at least 200,000 of the 2.25 million persons who use the subways daily.

The route and station changes -New York's first major subway reorganization in 27 years -went into effect Sunday, but the real impact was not felt until the start of the work week Monday. The major goal is to carry passengers more quickly and more directly between distant points. Before Monday's biggest foulups-intermittent power failures, stalled trains and jammed station platforms—Gilhooley said: "The fates were not with us today. Tomorrow will be better, we hope.

Passenger reaction ranged from a woman's complaint about riding on a crowded "cow train," to remarks that would not look good in print, to a woman's comment that: "It's easy once you get on the train-especially if you get on the right

The managers and general managers also acted on ideas put forth by Commissioner William D. Eckert to speed up play hitters from distant bullpens. The ball proposal would keep pitchers from delaying the game by asking for several new balls an inning and stop batters from stepping from the box to ask for a new ball.

Overcoming a nine-point halftime deficit, Sacred Heart fought to within four points at the end of the third quarter, and at the same time holding the cold-shooting Tigers to four points while they picked up nine. The final stanza was the breaking point as the Red and White collected 11 points and the Gold and Black again held off on their scoring and were only able to collect six.

Smith-Cotton grabbed an early lead in the first stanza on the strength of tough offensive rebounding. The Bengals continued to hold a lead through the third quarter by four points, 26-22, then the roof caved in with five minutes and 24 seconds remaining in the game. Gremlin Center Earl Gerke lifted his team to a 24-23 point lead. With four minutes remaining Tiger Guard George Williams regained the edge only to see the Sacred Heart five get final in the closing Bob Emo led the Gremlins in scoring with a 4-3 for 11 points while Tom Munson was high pointer for the Tigers with a 4-2 for 10 points.

It was interesting to note that half of the Gremlins points in the first half were made at the free-throw line.

It was the sixth game of the season for the Gremlins and the first outing for the Tigers. There was a determination to win on the part of Sacred Heart in the second half and tension was running high on the court and in the gymnasium with both teams having a large following behind them in Tipton.

Smith-Cotton returns Tipton on Thursday when they will meet the winner of the Tipton-Bunceton game at 7:30 p. m., while Sacred Heart's next session will be Friday night when they play winner of the Tipton-Bunceton contest at 9 p.m.

In other games Monday night the Jefferson City Jays moved to the semi-finals in defeating the School of the Osage 78-40; Versailles slipped past Eldon 66-60 to go to the semi-finals. The losers all moved to the consolation bracket.

Tonight Tipton plays Bunceton while Eldon will meet Osage in the consolation at 7:30 p.m.

There will be no games Wednesday night. Box Score:

Reed Makes Bid

Championship Match In Wrestling Tonight

Ronnie Reed, rugged 235pounder from Baltimore and one of the Mo-Kan area's finest wrestlers, will make his bid for the Central States championship tonight in the Convention Hall ring.

The hard-muscled, darkhaired veteran stepped up the challenger's role with a strong showing last Tuesday, capped by a victory in an eight-wrestler battle royal He'll go opposite brawny Bob Geigel in tonight's best of threefalls showdown. To assure an undisputed verdict, there will be no time limit, no disqualification.

The title match tops a fourevent mat card that will get under way at 8:15.

Reed displayed his quickness in convincing fashion last week when he stopped Bob Brown in less than two minutes during their clash. He followed by nailing Jack Donovan in the final round of the royal.

Geigel only recently regained the Central States belt. To do so, he outlasted the Hangman in hard-fought match. The Hangman had held the crown only briefly after getting the of longtime champion Sonny Myers.

Tonight's title test shapes up as one of Reed's speed and dexterity against Geigel's hardhitting tactics.

Poised for semifinal action are Earl Maynard and the Hangman. Maynard will be trying to check the Hangman's drive to get back into title contention and, at the same time, further his own campaign.

Other matches send Brown against Steve Bolas, Ronnie Etchison against Cyclone

Stars In Smaller Colleges

NEW YORK (AP) — Stars from 22 different colleges, led by an outstanding center and a trio of repeaters from the 1966 team, were named to the 1967 Little College All-America football team today following a national survey of coaches and newsmen.

The highly rated center is Victor Bender of Northeast Louisiana State, while two of the repeaters are halfbacks Carl Garrett of New Mexico Highlands and Don Hass of the powerful Montana State aggrega-

Despite his second straight appearance on the star-studded roster of small college heroes, the 6-foot, 215-pound runner for the New Mexico Cowboys is only a junior and has a chance next season to be named a third

If he does, he will equal the record of Eddie Lebaron, then of the College of the Pacific and later a National Football League star, who was named in 1947, 1948 and 1949.

At the helm of the 1967 aggregation is Charles "Chuck" Mc-Kee of Lawrence, a leader as well as an athlete. He is the only athlete in the past 20 years for whom unsolicited recommendations from all coaches whose teams he opposed were received.

McKee, among the national leaders in all phases of offense, is a high school buddy of Rocky Blier, the Notre Dame captain, but came to Lawrence for its premed course, in which he is a B-plus student.

His presence on the first team moved Bob "Holy" Toledo of San Francisco State to the second team and Gary Sandbo of Augustana College in Sioux Falls, S.D., to the honorable mention. Toledo is the nation's leader in total offense among the smaller colleges while the physically small Sandbo - he's only 5-foot-9 and weighs 175 at most - is the only player to have gained 1,000 yards or more in each of his three seasons in the rugged North Central Con-

Completing the backfield is Lee White of Weber, whom some scouts have rated the best fullback in the country. He carries a bruising-hard 232 pounds on his 6-4 frame.

The third repeater from the 1966 team is DeWayne Nix of Texas A&I, at end. Like Garrett, he has a year of eligibility remaining and could equal the Lebaron records. He relies on

Candidates

Two Coaches In Big Eight

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Big Eight had two football Coaches of the Year this fall -- Chuck Fairbanks of Oklahoma and Pepper Rodgers of Kansas. Pick one if you wish. You'll be right either way. They are two of the best candidates in many a year. Never have two new head coaches made a greater impact on the Big Eight in the same season.

In the Associated Press annual poll, they finished about 50-50. Dan Devine of Missouri was the only other coach with any votes.

Fairbanks, 34, won the chamonship and a Orange bowl bid with a team that was 4-3 in the league in 1966 and picked to finish in a fourth place tie by newsmen making a 2,200-mile pre-season trip to league camps. Fairbanks had been thrust into the job in the middle of spring practice, four days after Coach Jim Mackenzie died of a heart

Rodgers, 36, directed the Jayhawks to a second place tie at 5-2 with a squad that was 0-6-1 in the league last year and picked a shaky sixth place, a scant two points above the cellar. Going into the last quarter, Kansas led Colorado 8-6 and Oklahoma 10-7, but lost both by four. Never before in the 61-year history of the conference had a school improved by five league victories in one year.

Both coaches had long been considered prime head coaching material. OU had no choice but to pick a new head man from its saff when Mackenzie died Fairbanks, a polished speaker, meticulous organizer and low key on the practice field, was chosen over gravel-voiced Pat James a defensive genius. Fairbanks promptly named James his chief assistant. "I'm grateful for Pat's effort,"

Bruins Dominate NHL Score Race

NEW YORK (AP)—Boston's rejuvenated Bruins, led by veteran Johnny Bucyk, dominate the top of the National Hockey League scoring race.

Official NHL statistics released today show Bucyk in second place, three points back of Chicago's Bobby Hull, whose 27 points on 18 goals and nine assists still leads the league.

Bucyk picked up eight points on two goals and six assists last week and boosted his season's total to 11-13-24. A 13-year NHL veteran, Bucyk has scored 227 career goals with the Bruins, just two shy of the club record held by Boston's current general manager, Milt Schmidt.

Right behind Bucyk in the scoring race come two more Bruins, Fred Stanfield and John McKenzie, tied for third place with 23 points apiece. The trio has helped Boston — last place finishers in six of the last seven seasons — grab the early NHL

Another Bruin, Phil Esposito, is tied with New York's Jean Ratelle and Detroit's Alex Delvecchio for eighth place with 19 points - one point back of Detroit's Gordie Howe, Montreal's Yvan Curnoyer and Pittsburgh's Andy Bathgate, who share fifth

Fairbanks said. "He's the finest defensive coach in the country. Fairbanks had never played a down of defense, high school or college, when the first two-platoon era ended in the middle of his career at Michigan State in 1953. Yet he became a good defensive end his senior year, served as defensive backfield coach at Arizona State and was the architect of OU's excellent pass defense in 1966.

But he also served as offensive chief of Houston's explosive 1965 team, the last of his four seasons there.

The effervescent Rodgers, a former Georgia Tech quarterback under Bobby Dodd, quickly became recognized as an offensive genius as he tutored quarterbacks Rich Mayo of Air Force's Cotton Bowl team, Heisman Trophy winner Steve Spurrier at Florida and Gary Beban

Bob Douglass developed into a player of the same mold this fall. The Rodgers offense is bold and imaginative, yet simple and sound. It's based on execution and the trend-breaking, unexpected play.

"I'll never have a squad I appreciated more," Rodgers said. They played hurt and did everything possible to gain respect and success.

Locals Take Road Victory

The Sedalia Junior Kickers pulled out one of three games this weekend in St. Louis, beating the Bellaville Jaycees 3-1. Bill Ballance had the big foot this weekend, hitting the net three times. Two of the goals came in the Belleville contest on the Illinois' eleven home Friday night St. Louis Kutis

Nationals gave the locals a lesson in how to use speed and pin-point passing to gain victory. The Sedalians held Kutis to a two-goal advantage in the first half, but in the first 11 minutes of the second half the St. Louis team ripped the cords for three additional markers. At the 77 minute mark Bill Ballance on a pass from Jim Parker by way of Sam Gravitt put home the lone score for Sedalia. Kutis out-shot the locals 29-9, and had it not been for some fine goal minding by Paul Cason with 16 saves the game could have been far past

Saturday the Sedalia Jr. Kickers did their homework and used the speed and passing they had been taught the night before for a rousing victory over Illinois. Belleville's Leonard Krosen scored on a Sedalia misplay at the 18-minute mark of the first half. Bill Ballance on a head pass from Mauricio Herrmonn pushed past the tying score 15 minutes later for a 1-1 Mexican stand-off at half time

The shortened match saw a 3-0 lead stand for the St. Louis team's victory. The game statistically was closer with SCMAC having 17 tries at the SJ's net and Sedalia getting off 13 shots. ### Mildew on Uniform Problem for GI

By POLLY CRAMER

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY-My husband writes from Thailand that his winter uniform has mildew on it. Is there anything I can send him that will remove this mildew? It would not only help him but other GI friends.-MRS.

DEAR POLLY—Wrapping large, bulky Christmas gifts is always a problem but last year I discovered that the inexpensive plastic tablecloths with holiday decorations make ideal wrappings. One is less expensive than several rolls of paper and it is easier to wrap in one piece than it is to patch several pieces together.—JUNE

DEAR POLLY—Catherine requested directions for making a footstool out of tall juice cans. I have made several of them. I do not cut the tops off but use an opener to make holes for the juice to come out. Keep rinsing the cans until they are perfectly clean, then let dry thoroughly. I cover each of the cans with the top of a heavy white sock and pull together each end with strong twine, being careful to make them as smooth as possible. I sew the cans together, with one in the center and six others arranged closely around it to look like a flower head with six netals. look like a flower head with six petals.

The cans are placed on a heavy cardboard and I mark around them with pencil. Two of these pieces are cut out to go over the top and the bottom. I pad the top with something soft and cover the bottom with two thicknesses of material that is folded under about an inch. A straight piece of the covering material is used to go around the curved sides and drawn tight in each crease. Be careful to keep this straight and tight. Whip-stitch the top and bottom covers on by hand, using a large needle and very heavy thread. A narrow fringe can be used around the edges to give a nice finish. Keep the heading to the fringe just even with the top of the stool.—

DEAR GIRLS—I was amazed at the number of you who make these stools. Thanks for sharing with us.

B. B. M. wrote that she fills her cans with small stones, wrapped in old pieces of cloth, so as to add weight to her stools. Jean arranges the cans, then holds them together with masking tape wrapped all around. Bertha pads the indentations around the cans with old nylons or cotton so her stools are perfectly round and a bit easier to cover with upholstery material. She also pads the top and bottom with foam rubber.—POLLY

For Army and Navy, It's a 'One-Game Season'

By TOMMY THOMAS NEA Sports Writer

NEW YORK - (NEA) -When it's Army-Navy weekend, one game does indeed a season make. For that reason, coach Bill Elias' career record at Annapolis could be theoretically assessed as 0-1-1.

His squad has been unsuccessful in two previous meetings with Army. Elias' team has nabbed only four wins this season, his third at the Naval Academy, but a victory over Army would look like a 10-0 mark as far as the Midshipmen are concerned.

About 250 miles north of Annapolis, coach Tom Cahill faces a similar situation at West Point. His Black Knights have posted an 8-1 mark but should they be upset by the Middies it may as well be 0-10.

"Our season has been somewhat disappointing," Elias says. "Injuries and a letdown in our defensive unit have cost capsule.

"I was such a smart quarterback," Elias recalls, "that I never called on Groza to kick a field goal during our entire career there. I knew he'd never make it."

Elias enlisted in the Army Air Corps in World War II and flew 18 bombing missions over Germany as a gunner. While returning from one such venture, a fire broke out on his B-17. He was forced to bail out over England.

"The Germans had just raided the area," Elias recalls, "and the British thought I was one of them. I had to do some fast talking because one of them had a pitchfork pointed right at my eyes. I fi-

After his service was over, Bill played quarterback at the University of Maryland under three coaches-Clark Shaughnessy, Bear Bryant and Jim "I learned offense from Shaughnessy, psychology from Bryant and organization from Tatum," he says. "Each had a touch of genius."

He learned defense on his own. His initial college job was coaching the defensive backfield at Purdue. His first head coaching opportunity came in 1960 at George Washington University. He logged a 5-3-1 record and was named Southern Conference "Coach of the Year."

The next year he coached Virginia to four wins after the Cavaliers had lost 28 straight. This time, he was named "Coach of the Year" in the Atlantic Coast Conference. In 1965 he finally fulfilled his am-

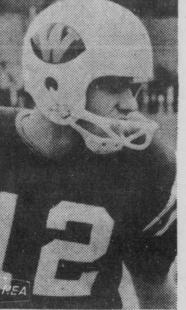

His record to date is 12-14-2. The past two years his Navy squad has been favored in the Army game. But this time the Cadets are getting the nod, which is O.K. with Bill.

Army leads the series 32-29. The incentive, however, should lie with Navy this year. The Cadets had hoped to play in a bowl game following a win over the Middies, but the Army Department ruled out that possibility.

For Elias, it's a chance to achieve both his first winning season and his first win over Army. He thinks he'll get it.

As one of his longtime friends says, "Elias has this kind of confidence: If he were General Custer, he would be positive the Sioux were coming to surrender.

He should hope Tom Cahill feels the same way.

The Sun Never Sets On British Problems

By JOHN CUNNIFF AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) - The British once boasted that the sun never set on the British Empire but there are days now when British executives and government men must sigh with relief when dusk finally comes.

These are gray times for Britain, and the dark mists that now precede winter seem a symbol also of her trials. Her chronic ills demand one operation after another. And still the maladies

One can go far back in history to find the root of some of today's ailments, among them, her loss of colonies, the cost and devastation of World War II, the loss of able men in war without an infusion through immigratrade was routed? Who could fusal of France to permit Britain to join and share in the trade benefits of the Common Market?

GRANTS TO FOUR YOUNG PLAYWRIGHTS

NEW YORK (AP) - Four young playwrights have been selected as initial recipients of fellowship grants under the joint program set up by the Eugene O'Neill Foundation and Wesleyan University of Middletown, Conn.

The program, created under a three-year Rockefeller abroad, she found also that as Foundation allotment of $233,000, provides each writer with $3,500 cash and free most in proportion. any assurance just 15 years ago that Britain would lose some of her best brains, the brains needed to rebuild a nation, drained abroad by financial and academic rewards? And what kind of madness in the British psyche was it that brought about a dockworker strike at the very time the country, in a battle for economic survival, needed to increase her exports to foreign lands?

The problems run a full range, including the tragicomic. A huge oil tanker burst off her shores and forced the nation to man her beaches, unsuccessfully this time, against a giant oil slick. Already on austerity, some British had to forego swimming as well.

And in the midst of her economic problems came the worst outbreak in history of foot and mouth disease, forcing the slaughter and burial of thouanything that could have been sands of cattle, pigs, goats and expected. They are like evil sheep, a real setback for a na-

Even when determinedly face to face with her problems, will-Who could have stated with ing to fight and solve them if possible, the apparent solutions sometimes have wound themselves in a dilemma.

Consider the export-import situation. In order to escape from her balance of payments problems-in order to increase her exports—Britain concluded that she would have to force her economy into expansion.

A young lady abandons her car in Lisbon, Portugal, during a flash flood which hit the city and surrounding areas Sunday. Four umbrellas carried by the girl may have been useful some hours earlier during massive rains that swept the Iberian Peninsula, bringing on the flood. The inundation has killed an estimated 250 persons, with many missing or injured. (UPI)
